Description
bug one
bug exists if you type in any random text (purposely incorrect) the dialog will then select the first within the list, in this case 0premium as null entry when user types in the incorrect hoster in text/dropdown field it shouldn't revert to first in list. prevent <tab> / next field entries when first field is incorrect (doesn't match any in our list).
replicate add new account type in any random text <tab> then it reverts to first on list.
bug two
same as the above but press tab twice after entering random text in into hoster, it will show another drop down menu but this time it's the full high of your screen/monitor (over the normal 8).
