Description

Love this new feature!!

My only comment would be to slightly change the code to allow highlighted fields to expand/contract on top of what's already supported.

Currently it expands/collapses based on mouse position 'click position > bottom'

Also I've noticed when you're in a different sort order and you do any mass expanding/contracting it works on original sort order (id) as reference to expanding. I'd recommend you change expanding to look up current view state for the position reference.
