Description

The bubble notice showing new links and reconnect status does not react to the closing "x", not does disappear after some time.

On my KDE 4.8 system all the bubbles stay open. On another system with KDE 4.10 only the last stays open, the others vanish.

With this feature turned on, the JDownloader is unusable, as you can't get rid of the windows until next start.

Also a slight error: The text for successful reconnect in the bubble is "Reconnect failed!", which does not match.

Using recent JDownloader r22086.
